

MAYSON-DIXON COMPANIES

B Elite Transportation:

<http://belitetransportation.com>

Is a family owned WBE out of the Baltimore area. The “B” in the company name stands for the Bundy family. B Elite Transportation provides 2 key services - Transportation and Transport Consulting. B Elite uses tractors, straight trucks, and vans for transportation purposes, which is their primary service. They also assist with MDOT and compliance consulting, route optimization consulting, and driver recruitment services. B Elite Transportation does a lot of port work transporting huge crates, box and cargo van transportation, and they are an approved FedEx contractor. B Elite

Transportation has worked with major corporations including FedEx and Amazon servicing the Mid-Atlantic region.

Jennifer Bundy will be representing B Elite Transportation for the TradePoint Atlantic Empowerment Academy. Since 2020, Jennifer is the current owner of B Elite Transportation. In this role, she is able to take her lifetime of transportation experience to fulfill her vision of creating a mobile workforce that can service any type of client, which includes FedEx, Amazon, Broker, White glove, and jockey services. Jennifer is an innovative thinker, with broad expertise in leadership and logistics management. She is a charismatic and skilled communicator with a passion for relationships and people. Prior to B Elite, Jennifer worked for Coastal Sunbelt Produce as director of logistics for over fourteen years. While there she was responsible for over 1,900 stops on 200 routes per day. In 2013, Jennifer started her own company named JC Consulting Services, which offers a range of DOT, CSA, and transportation consulting support. They provide services including development of safety programs, DOT audit preparation, driver recruitment, IFTA, policy and procedure creation and implementation, route optimization, risk management, and driver retention. Jennifer founded JC Consulting Services with the vision of making safety and compliance easy and affordable for every company. Jennifer is excited to partner with TradePoint Atlantic and believes that her experience in the field of transportation will set the partnership up for success.

